

Stove Venting

---

-
- Wood-burning stoves use Class A chimneys that vent vertically and terminate above the roofline
  - Gas stoves use direct vents that improve efficiency, maintain air quality and are extremely flexible so you can place a gas stove almost anywhere in your home
  - Pellet-burning stoves use a pressurized hybrid system with a stainless steel inner wall and gaskets to seal tightly